RUNWAY REALITY

REALITY shows with a focus on fashion continue to roll out on pay TV.
 The former Mrs Rod Stewart takes on a presenting role for Style Me with Rachel Hunter, which has its premiere on the W Channel at 8pm on Sunday. Twelve aspiring stylists compete over 10 episodes for the chance to dress Hunter for a red-carpet appearance.
 Supermodel Heidi Klum hosts the second series of Project Runway, starting on Arena on July 11. Here, 16 designers compete for prizes including a showing at New York Fashion Week.

SOCCER STYLE

THE fate of the Socceroos in this morning's World Cup eliminator was unknown when Citystyle went to press.
 Regardless of the outcome, World Cup fever has spread through the fashion world.
 French Connection entered the Socceroo spirit with special-edition T-shirts for guys.
 The two styles — "Better than Sex" and "Socceroos on Tour" — come in sizes small to extra large and cost $49.95 at FCUK stores.

SPORTING SOLE

THE World Cup has also inspired an RMIT fashion school student.
 Soccer fan Kate Camilleri has made a pair of summer weaves as part of her shoemaking course at the school's Brunswick campus.
 When she was planning the project, her colour choice was obvious.
 "Green and gold are my two favourite colours at the moment. I'm in a patriotic head space."

BEDTIME COMPANION

ROLL-NECK jumpers are just the thing for rugging up in winter.
 These ones from Bed Bath N' Table can't be worn, but they will keep you cosy under the covers.
 They are colourful cases for hot-water bottles and cost $14.95, including the bottle. Stockists, ph: 9387 3322. For other winter warm ideas, see Page 5 today.

PJS FOR KIDS

BUYING a pair of bear-printed children's pyjamas this winter will help support a good cause.
 Melbourne sleepwear company Sougglebum has launched its cosy-bear sleepwear range, and proceeds of sales will go to SIDS and Kids Victoria.
 The launch coincides with the charity's main fundraiser, Red Nose Day, on Friday.
 The cosy-bear sleepwear range, available in four sizes from 3 months to 2 years, is for sale online for $34.95 or by phoning 1300 657 131.
 There are one-piece and two-piece styles.

LUXURY FOR LESS

CRABTREE & Evelyn, home to all that's genteel, luxurious and English, has opened a clearance store.
 The store, at 42 Fairchild St, Heatherton, is selling slightly damaged, discontinued and ex-display toiletries, fragrances and food for as much as 30 per cent off regular retail price.
 Ph: 8551 1000.

WINNERS

CHRISTINE Reynolds, of Patterson Lakes, has won last week's Barbie wardrobe competition.

WIN LINGERIE

FEEL beautiful inside and out in hipster briefs by Australian-owned sabi.
 Renowned for their fun and feminine lingerie, sabi has created hipster briefs in two of this season's must-have hues: sexy black and pretty purple.
 The delicate lace trim and soft mesh will make you feel comfortable and cosy throughout the chilly winter weather.
 Sabi is giving Citystyle readers the chance to win a $500 voucher to spend at sabi's stores in Greville St, Prahran, or Little Collins St, city. Fifty runners-up will receive two pairs of briefs, valued at $37.90.
